The French Chamber publishes ‘The HR Guide, a practical approach to Human Resources in Great Britain’

The French Chamber has published a guide that provides an overview of HR practices and law in the UK, aimed at French businesses that have or are intending to set up in the UK.

The guide will help HR managers operating as external advisors or business leaders with responsibilities for HR aspects, to prepare for the particularities of managing employees in the UK. Written in English, the booklet covers the full range of HR topics, reflecting the strong legal basis of the UK employment landscape. It will also serve as a useful reference tool for UK subsidiaries of French companies to help them clarify the differences between UK and French HR practices for their French headquarters.

‘This guide has been written by members of our HR Forum, many of whom work for Franco-British companies, and are aware of the key differences and pitfalls. All experts, the writers have tackled different subjects, making it a diverse, but rich collation of material, interspersed with testimonials, tips and examples of local HR practice,’ says Florence Gomez, Managing Director of the French Chamber.

The HR Guide is on sale for £12 on the French Chamber of Commerce’s website www.frenchchamber.co.uk

About the French Chamber of Great Britain

The French Chamber of Great Britain is the largest foreign Chamber in the UK in terms of both turnover and range of services offered. Our main aims are to provide a platform of exchange and networking at the service of the Franco-British firms in the UK, to promote our 600 members’ interests to key decision makers and to help develop economic and commercial relations between France and the UK. Our Business Consultancy and Business set-up departments provide both British and French companies with a large range of bespoke professional services.

About the HR Forum

Attracting the highest management levels of the HR world, this Forum offers HR professionals of both small and large organisations an informal setting to share best practice and experiences on issues which impact their departments and, ultimately, their employees. It was tailored to meet the requirements of its members who set the annual agenda and determine future topics. Speakers are invited from member and non-member organisations, encouraging discussion and the exchange of experiences from a wide range of industries.
